Loup Power District Web Site Offers Language Translation Tool

The walls of the language barrier have come tumbling down through Systran's Babel Fish Translation Tool, now available on Loup Power District's web site: www.loup.com.

The tool, powered by Systran, allows browsers to quickly translate phrases, text, and entire web pages into their language of choice. Languages available include: Korean, Portugese, Spanish, German, Russian, Chinese, Dutch, French, Greek, Italian, and Japanese.

How does it work? Simply highlight the text for translation, copy and paste the text into the Babel Fish Translator. Select your language of choice from the drop down menu and then click on the translate button.

"Loup continues to see more diversity in its customer base," said Sharon Farritor, communications coordinator. "This tool will help us better-serve our customers."

Loup Power District serves customers in Newman Grove and all the towns in Colfax, Boone, Nance and Platte counties. Loup also provides wholesale electric power to the communities of Schuyler, Clarkson and Leigh, as well as to Nebraska G&T.
